

INTERLOCATION TRANSFER

The INTERLOCATION TRANSFER process is a sub-process of Onboarding and Offboarding and is meant to define the roles and responsibilities involved in transferring an employee from one UC location to another. The process begins when a UCR employee accepts a job at another UC location, or when an employee of another UC location accepts a job at UCR. Throughout the process, the UCR Interlocation Transfer Coordinator will assist UCR departments and the appropriate Shared Services Center to execute the transaction.

DID YOU KNOW?

In most cases, employees should self-identify as an Interlocation Transfer. However, if they do not (or if there is some other delay in transferring employee information between campuses), the receiving campus must ensure that the employee is made whole. This may include ensuring service credits, accruals, etc. are reinstated correctly.

THE PROCESS IS SUCCESSFUL IF...

- ✓ An employee is appointed and paid correctly
